THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

Cognitive Behavioral & Neuropsychology Services is committed to protecting your privacy. The Practice is required by federal law to maintain the privacy of Protected Health Information (“PHI”), which is information that identifies or could be used to identify you. The Practice is required to provide you with this Notice of Privacy Practices (this “Notice”), which explains the Practice's legal duties and privacy practices and your rights regarding PHI that we collect and maintain.

YOUR RIGHTS:

Your rights regarding PHI are explained below. To exercise these rights, please submit a written request to the Practice at the address noted below. To inspect and copy PHI.

You can ask for an electronic or paper copy of PHI. The Practice may charge you a reasonable fee. The Practice may deny your request if it believes the disclosure will endanger your life or another person's life. You may have a right to have this decision reviewed. To amend PHI, you can ask to correct PHI you believe is incorrect or incomplete. The Practice may require you to make your request in writing and provide a reason for the request. The Practice may deny your request. The Practice will send a written explanation for the denial and allow you to submit a written statement of disagreement. To request confidential communications, you can ask the Practice to contact you in a specific way. The Practice will say “yes” to all reasonable requests. To limit what is used or shared. You can ask the Practice not to use or share PHI for treatment, payment, or business operations. The Practice is not required to agree if it would affect your care. If you pay for a service or health care item out-of-pocket in full, you can ask the Practice not to share PHI with your health insurer. To obtain a list of those with whom your PHI has been shared. You can ask for a list, called an accounting, of the times your health information has been shared. You can receive one accounting every 12 months at no charge, but you may be charged a reasonable fee if you ask for one more frequently. To receive a copy of this Notice. You can ask for a paper copy of this Notice, even if you agreed to receive the Notice electronically. To choose someone to act for you. If you have given someone medical power of attorney or if someone is your legal guardian, that person can exercise your rights.

OUR USES AND DISCLOSURES:

Routine Uses and Disclosures of PHI The Practice is permitted under federal law to use and disclose PHI, without your written authorization, for certain routine uses and disclosures, such as those made for treatment, payment, and the operation of our INTERNAL practice. Example: The Practice uses PHI to send you appointment reminders if you choose via emails or texts.

The Practice typically uses or shares your health information in the following ways: To treat you, the Practice can use and share PHI with other professionals who are treating you upon PERMISSION from you. Example: Your primary care doctor asks about your mental health treatment, authorization from you is required prior to releasing information. To bill for your services, the Practice can use and share PHI to bill and get payment from health plans or other third parties. Example: The Practice gives PHI to your health insurance plan so it will pay for your services.
